THE STORY

Why is it hard to find great natural wine that is both affordable & consistently available? That's the challenge friends Dave & Diego set out to solve in founding RedThumb Natural Wines.

After developing their winemaking standards—a “do no harm” philosophy, a win-win for the environment & the quality of RedThumb wines—they found a producer who could deliver.

Three RedThumb varietals—a tempranillo, an unoaked chardonnay, & a rosé—are made with organically grown grapes from Spain's Navarra region. Their dedication to transparency is written all over the bottles—literally. The standards, nutritional info & ingredients are on every label.

PHILOSOPHY: RedThumb believes great natural wine should be affordable & consistently available. You have a right to know what's in your wine & transparency is key.
