THE STORY

Chateau Cantegril is a 22 hectares estate that belongs to the Dubourdieu family since 1924.

The Dubourdieu Family is famous in Bordeaux for owning Chateau Doisy-Daene a Classified Growth Sauternes.

Chateau Cantegril is produced in the same spirit.

PHILOSOPHY: Like those of Doisy Daëne, the sweet wines of Cantegril express the sap and vivacity of the limestone terroir of Barsac.

Chateau Cantegril is the tiny house production from the family.
