The Facts

COUNTRY: Italy REGION: Campania APPELLATION: Sannio

The Story

Terre Stregate was founded in 1988 by Armando lacobucci, and today is run by his children Filomena and Carlo. The family is in its 5th generation of winemaking, starting in 1898 with Filippo lacobucci. In these fertile hills of Guardia Sanframondi, the ancient town of Sannio Beneventano, is a region threaded with mysticism. The name "Terre Stregate", or "Bewitched Lands", reflects the congruence of historic reality melded with ancient myths borne of whispers in the hills and under brooding trees. Fully organic, native varietals grown on 25 Ha. PHILOSOPHY: "Call me Witch, Call me Earth. Fate is in the Name." Essence crawls out from its primordial source. Terre Stregate's philosophy is founded on the name it was granted. It is light and shadow, pagan divinity. To burn as a star you must embrace chaos.
