THE FACTS

COUNTRY: Italy

REGION: Friuli-Venezia Giulia

APPELLATION: Colli Orientali del Friuli

THE STORY

Torre Rosazza lies in the heart of an area dedicated to vine-growing since ancient times, the Colli Friuli Orientali DOC, the easternmost appellation in Italy. Its name derives from 'Turis Rusaceae' or Tower of Roses and the estate includes the 18th-century Palazzo De' Marchi, now converted into a winery with cellar and guest rooms.

The property is centered on two natural amphitheaters of Eocene marl that are terraced and well exposed to the sun. Torre Rosazza covers a total of 110 hectares of which 90 are planted to vines in a truly prime location surrounded by the top producers of the region. The winery is known for its beautifully elegant whites including the award-winning Pinot Grigio, and its focus on native varieties.
